“India, the land of Mahatma Gandhi and Sardar Patel, also represents the business spirit of India”

- Narendra Modi

Industries and innovators showcase the economical strength of a country. The entire world nowadays is dependent on all sorts of industries, financial trends and innovations for its strong and steady inclusive growth and development. For this, all industries and innovators need to be inter-connected and given more strength. Publishing of a directory is the modest way to thoroughly get in touch.

I am pleased to learn that Council of State Industrial Development & Investment Corporations of India is going to publish COSIDICI Executive Telephone Directory 2022. I am sure this Publication with relevant information about its Member Corporations across the country will provide extensive information to the users from country and abroad as well. I, hereby, extend my heartiest best wishes to the Council for the success of the COSIDICI Executive Telephone Directory.
